

September is National Honey Month. Using resources in your classroom, learn how honey is produced by bees and what steps are taken to put it on your kitchen table. You may even want to draw and label a diagram to go with your writing.